IMMIGRATION TO VIRGINIA. - The following are extracts from a speech of Immigration to Virginia, recently delivered at Buckingham Court House, by Dr. Oliver, a Scotch gentleman, who is now travelling in this State:

You must have immigration at once to develop your resources. The present state of affairs can't last long; negroes, who cannot govern themselves, cannot govern white men. There is no precedent for it in all history. If they don't wish to be annihilated by the civilized, energetic and progressive white man, they must fall back into their natural position, a ide their contracts, and be faithful to their friends. It is marvellous to me that after a war of such inequality of numbers, in which you fought so valiantly that you should now despond. The spirit of your fathers should raise you above that. The Scotch people whom I propose soon to settle among you are well educated, especially in the arts of industry. They can and will work. Their habits, sympathies and religion are like yours. The Scotch are raised to work and love it. Their industry has increased Scotland's wealth and power, and raised her high in the world. I am both Scotch and English, and leve both sections. The farmers in Scotland and England plow twelve inches deep and plow about two acres each day. The laborers look well after the crops, and study closely their masters' interest. Upon such fertile land as I have seen in the county of Buckingham they would raise, by good cultivation, double the amount you are now raising. The land here is as rich as the West; or the bulk of Great Britain. -All it wants is good tillage by good labor. You have many advantages over the West, being an older society—with more comforts, more facilities for transportation, greater exemption from diseases, from tornadoes, floods, droughts, killing winters, &c., &c.

grate because the population is so dense that they cannot be supported. There is more la bor than can be employed or managed, and many wander about seeking employment and finding none. They only want men of character to visit Virginia to tell them of the state of affairs, the soil and climate, the advantages, mineral, agricultural and commercial, the disposition of the people, &c., and then they will flock in by thousands. Our people must find employment somewhere: they cannot find it in their own country. Thousands are out of work, poorhouses are full, crime on the increase, taxation heavy, &c. Many farm laborers hire for $35 a year, and have their own families to support, and would be glad of the pay and abundant living which the working population of Virginia get. The laborers of Virginia live better than many of the middle classes of Eng land and Scotland. I am convinced that our people could find no better residing place than people could find no better residing place than among the kind, warm hearted Virginians.—

We will furnish

White Shire longer emigrate to Australia or New Zealand, where the climate is bad and agricultural advantages poor. 101 .- This After examining this State I have concluded to settle here, because I prefer it to any other. Many will come with me. They are now paying from sixteen to eighteen dollars per acre yearly for rent in England and Scotland. They cannot pay such high rent, and would prefer to settle in this State, and in a few years many of them would buy homes.

Now let us consider practically as to how they are to be brought. Many of you gentlemen, have one or two thoseand agree of land. men, have one or two thousand acres of land which at present is yielding you but small income. If you will sell as portion, vor adopt what is called the Cotton system the portion you reserve will be far more valuable as population increases than the whole now in If you offer them homes when they arrive here. the different immigration societies of England and Scotland will furnish them meaus to come. If you choose to adopt the Cottentsystem, the laborers will build the necessary houses, if you turnish them tools and board them whilst so engaged. Only a small amount of money would be needed to induce them to come. Most that is needed is to tell them that you will welcome and aid them. The Lynchburg-Immigration Society have done much good by scattering their circulars in England and Scotland. - Many more such Societies are needed to bring in population as fast as wanted. These people when once upon your soil will vote with you and fight for you if required. In recently perusing the works of Rogers, and others, on the mineral wealth of Virginia. I find this county stands among the first. Your minerals of gold, copper, iron and coal are abundant, and only require capital to work them. There are upwards of twelve millions of dollars in England which will find its way to your State, and develop your resources, if you invite it.

Miscellaneous Items, I Hast A certain judge, pronouncing sentence of death upon an Irishman said: - "You shall be taken to the place of execution and there be hanged by the neck until you are dead; and may God have mercy on your soul!" At this the prisoner exclaimed: "Hold there, Judge; I want none of your prayers, for I never knew any one to live long after you prayed for him." Sterne, who used his wife very ill, was one day talking to Garrick in a fine sentimental manner, in praise of conjugal love and felicity.
"The husband," said Sterne, "who behaves unkindly to his wife, deserves to have his house sale by HOUGH & RAMSAY, unkindly to his wife, deserves to have his house burned over his head." "If you think so," jan 7 said Garrick, "I hope your house is insured." A gentleman who had visited his friend for the first time in a very solitary and dreary situation, observed to him, "My dear Tom, you may have your reasons for living here," but, added he, looking with great surprise at the rookery, "what ean induce these poor birds to stay here too?" A traveller was induced to go into a cook shop by this inscription: "Roast and boiled at two pence a head." He was not a little disap-pointed by two courses of potatoes!
